

The beginning of Harry

potter

By Elisha Ellis .

It was 15 years ago
When this magical boy was born. His parents left him in a basket near a wooden door in the town of Chritchurch. Little did he know that someone was Watching him. When he was 8, Harry was walking talking through the town.

When things started to happen. First, it was a dizzy feeling. Then, it was a tingly feeling and before he know it, he had a magic Wand in his hand. He didn't know what was happening.

He was confused. A few weeks later, Harry was still confused at what had happened so he spoke to the Angels. (Like he always would when he had a problem).

They told him that he was Special and he had been born with them. However, they didn't know he could change into a wizard.

After talking to the angels, he looked down to see he had different shoes on and a wizard cloak. He took this opportunity to find out who was doing this but he didn't find a thing. Not even a clue until ... he felt another tingle flowing through his body. POOF!!

He had turned into

Harry Potter!
