The curse of the Maya

Let's search for clues as a Historian...

Home Learning challenge:

After discovering the clues to the lost city of Tikal, your next challenge is to find out what Maya people liked to eat. You have two options for your home learning: researching Maya food and producing a fact file or designing a menu for a Maya restaurant.

Good luck Year 6.

As a Historian, you will need to:

Option 1: Due in Monday 11th December

- Research Maya food. Remember to use different sources of information.
- Present your research in a fact file.

Option 2: Due in Monday 11th December

- Design your own menu for a Maya restaurant. You will need to consider what food Maya people would have eaten at the time and then adapt this to make your own Maya inspired menu.
